

STEPHAN LEISSLE

OFFICE DIRECTOR, BEHNISCH ARCHITEKTEN MUNICH

Stephan started his career at Behnisch as an intern in 2003. He graduated from the Technische Universität in Dresden and thereafter worked with several smaller Firms. In 2006 he returned to Behnisch Architekten in Stuttgart to work as a project architect on the first iteration of Harvard's 1,055,000 sq ft. Allston Science Complex. Stephan moved to the Munich office in 2009 shortly after it was opened. His first project was the extension of the gymnasium at the campus of the Montessori-School in Ingolstadt (designed by Günter Behnisch). Stephan was also project manager for the award winning City Hall of Bad Aibling and for the 960.000 sq. ft. Audi office complex in Ingolstadt. He is also experienced in construction management, completing the Public Parking Structure in Kolbermoor and the extension of the Spa in Bad Aibling. Since 2016 he supervises several teams of architects working in various phases on a wide variety of projects.

PROJECTS

- City Hall Gröbenzell
- City Hall Großkarolinenfeld
- Housing and Comercial Building in Kolbermoor
- Student Residential Complex Regensburg
- Gymnasium in Erlangen
- Public Parking Structure, Kolbermoor
- Extension Spa, Bad Aibling
- Office Building H6/H7 Audi, Ingolstadt
- City Hall Bad Aibling
- Extension Gymnasium Montessori-Schule Ingolstadt
- Harvard's Allston Science Complex, Allston, MA, USA

COMPETITIONS

- Neubau einer Vierfachsporthalle Erlangen, Germany
- Rathaus Gröbenzell, Germany
- Rathaus Großkarolinenfeld, Germany
- Studentenwohnheim Regensburg, Germany

PROFESSIONAL DESIGNATIONS

- Registered Architect: Architektenkammer Baden-Württemberg

PROFESSIONAL

Since 2018	Office Director – Behnisch Architekten, Munich
2009-2018	Project Manager – Behnisch Architekten, Munich
2006-2009	Architect – Behnisch Architekten, Stuttgart
2003	Architectural Intern – Behnisch, Behnisch & Partner

EDUCATION

1999-2006	Technische Universität Dresden
2002-2003	École Nationale Supérieure des Arts et Industries de Strasbourg