

• DIETER MORSZECK BIOREPOSITORY Heidelberg, DE

2019–2023

As part of the Cancer Research Center (DKFZ) in Heidelberg, this fully automated, robotic biopsy facility is able to store liquid bio samples at temperatures below $-130\text{ }^{\circ}\text{C}$ for many years to help detect tumor cells at an early stage. Eventually, the structure will be completely enveloped by plants.

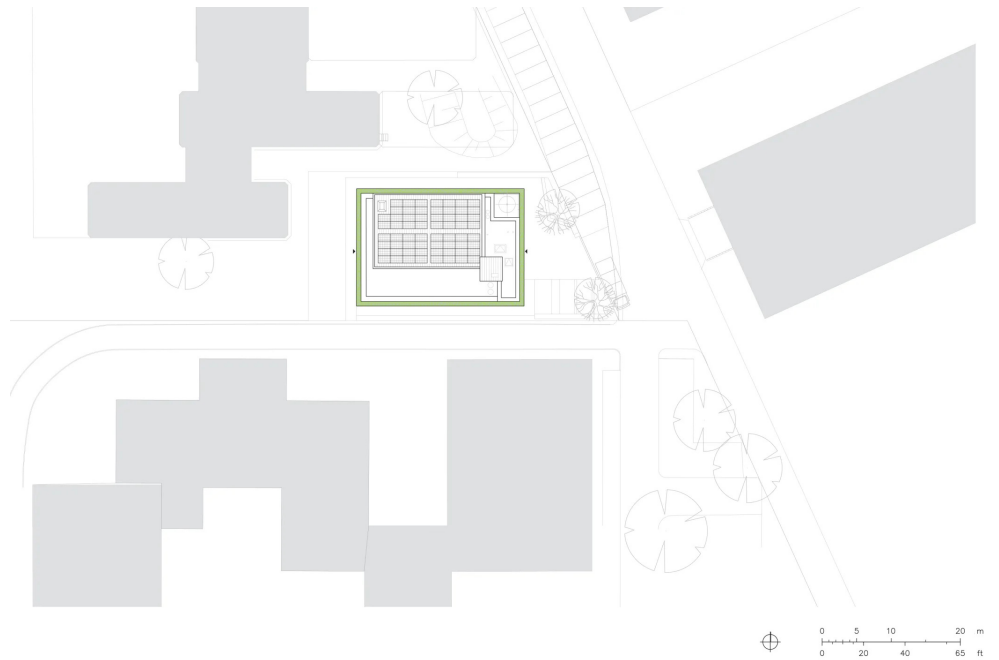

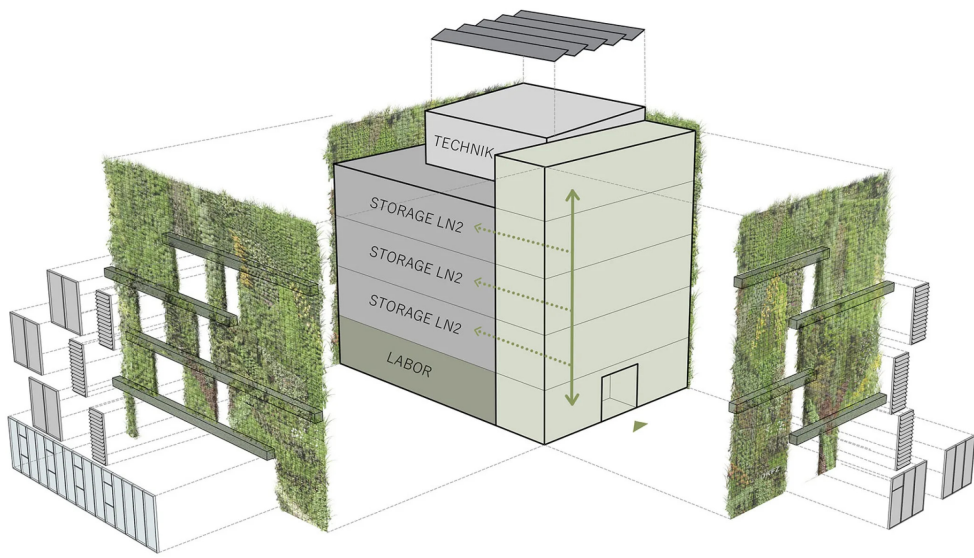

#innovativematerials

#biodiversity

#microclimate

laboratory

research

Site Plan

• DIETER MORSZECK BIOREPOSITORY
Heidelberg, DE

2019–2023

CLIENT	GROSS VOLUME
Deutsches Krebsforschungszentrum	8.350 cbm / 294,880 cu.ft
DKFZ Heidelberg
ARCHITECTS	GROSS AREA
Behnisch Architekten	1.600 qm / 17,222 sq.ft.
ADDRESS	COMPETITION
Im Neuenheimer Feld 529	2019 (VGv)
69120 Heidelberg	PHOTOGRAPHY
Germany	David Matthiessen